

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

THE INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE OF INTERIOR DESIGN

JULY 2004

Ted Turner

An Exclusive Look at His Plantation Home

Swedish Modern

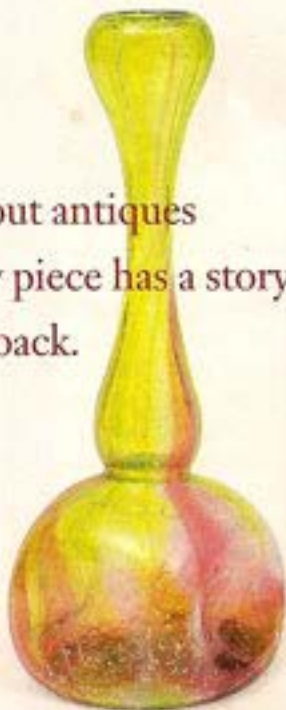

Andrew Wilder, who has been keeping clients, including Barbara Barry, in Swedish modern furniture from his Los Angeles shop, has expanded east. Svenska Möbler, in Chicago (above and right), has pieces made between 1840 and 1940.

Svenska Möbler, 516 N. Wells St.
Chicago, IL 60610, 312-595-9320
www.svenskamobler.com

"The thing about antiques is that every piece has a story," says James Bisback.

A vase by Christopher Dresser and a circa 1840 bronze dancer at
Jonny's Antiques

Ontario Antiquing

We're like an old-fashioned store," James Bisback says of Jonny's Antiques, which he owns with Jonny Kalisch. "We carry a very wide range." Antique European furniture and 18th- and 19th-century glass and porcelain are artfully arranged in the Shakespeare, Ontario, shop, which attracts the local theater crowd as well as designers. "They've helped us acquire some exceptional pieces," says longtime client Katherine Newman.

Jonny's Antiques
10 Shakespeare St.
Shakespeare, Ontario N0B 2P0
Canada
519-625-8307

continued on page 116